ABSTRACT

In line with the times, the development of public affairs increasingly complex and diverse. The public information is needed by citizens to preserve life and to develop the potential life of every citizen. Information of economic, social, political, and legal is very important information and are needed by every citizen because with the information citizens can know to develop their potential to sustain life. In the implementation of public service provision of public information sometimes their pemasalahan that public bodies have a public information does not provide public information or public information does not match the expectations of the applicant information, which leads to dissatisfaction applicant information. This raises a Public Information Dispute.

Public Information Dispute completed in stages through the Information Commission by way of Mediation and Adjudication litigation. Completion by the Information Commission sometimes does not satisfy the parties so that there is an objection to the decision of the commission information. Over the objections of the commission's decision that information can be submitted a claim to the State Administrative Court (Administrative Court). It is, as the mandate of Law Number 14 of 2008 on Public Information which authorizes the State Administrative Court to resolve the dispute information.
