ABSTRACT

Developing Improvement Effort of Active Alert Village Level in Sidoarjo District

The level of Active Alert Village is used as performance indicator of Community Health Center and description of public and government capability to achieve public independence in health which hasn’t fulfilled yet since 2011 until 2013. Organization Development (OD) is used to know how the factor can affect the Active Alert Village level. In this case, Pokjanal and Forum Active Alert Village contribute to improve the level of Active Alert Village. This study objective was to develop efforts to improve level of Active Alert village in Sidoarjo. With multistage random sampling technique obtained 144 Pokjanal and Forum Active Alert village members for the research samples. The result of this study showed that all sub factor, except partnership were problems that should be solved. Furthermore, to see the influence of each sub factors, linear regression test is used with value of p <0.005. There was significant influence between the purpose, the funding, primary health care facility and human resource with legal framework of Active Alert Village. There was significant influence between legal framework of Active Alert Village with social factors (Clean and Healthy Behavior, Pokjanal Activity and Active Alert Village Forum, Posyandu activity, and other Health Effort Based on Community). There was a significant influence of social factors and output factor (result of Active Alert Village level). There was a significant influence between the funding and the human resource with the primary health care facility. There was a significant influence between the primary health care facility and legal framework with the stages of development of Active Alert Village. There was a significant influence between the stages of development of Active Alert Village with social factors. There was a significant influence between social factors and output factor. There was a significant influence between human resource with social factors. There was a significant influence of social factors and output faktor. Sidoarjo Health Officer as stakeholders on Active Alert Village follow up on these recomendations with a more appropriate intervention to improved Active Alert Village level based on the General Guidelines Handbook for Development of Villages Active Standby (Minister of Health of the Republic of Indonesia Number: 1529 / Menkes / SK / X / 2010). It is importance to improve the level of Active Alert Village by analyse on eight indicators stages of Active Alert Village as the way to achieve public health in villages, where the community can identify health problems in an integrated and mutual cooperation. While for other researchers, this study can be used as material for futher research.

Keywords: Solving community health problem in village, Developing Improvement effort of Active Alert Village level, Organization Development (OD).