CHAPTER IV
CONCLUSION

East Java is one of the provinces in Indonesia with many tourist attractions. Every city has its own characteristics culture. To manage, promote and handle the culture and tourism the government needs the organization called East Java Government Culture and Tourism Service. The existence of marketing staff in East Java Government Culture and Tourism service make the writer feel challenged to do internship there. Doing a job training in East Java Government Culture and service help the writer to gain many experiences in tourist attraction.

The writer has enjoyed the job training at East Java Government Culture and Tourism service from 19th January to 18th February 2015. From her experience in the internship, the writer learn more about the culture and tourism, how to translate some brochure well, how to manage time, and how to work in group. The writer realize during her internship, the writer must to have a good skill of spoken and written English.

The writer has suggestions for East Java Government Culture and Tourism Service. The writer suggest to the marketing staff to more promote the culture and tourism in East Java, because it is an opportunity to introduce East Java and give better impression to foreign tourist so that they would like to go back to East Java.

Finally, the writer hopes the information and experiences that she got from the internship could be useful for her and other people in the future.