ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

My foremost gratitude goes to Allah SWT because of his blessing I could live the life that I am living now; and also because of him, I could also finish what I started. I hope that this thesis will bring more inspiration for further studies and will benefit a lot of people in the future. This thesis would also have been possible to finish without the support of several individuals.

I would like to express my sincere appreciation and thanks to my thesis advisor, Dra. Christinawati, M. Si, for her continuous patience, supports, and contribution, and dedication to supervise me in writing of this thesis. To my academic advisor, Pujo Sakti Nur Cahyo, M. Hum., thank you for your guidance and support and encouragement throughout every semester. With due respect, I would like also to thank to the board of English Department, Universitas Airlangga for sharing such knowledge and experiences. To my family; Ayah, Ibu, Adek—who have also been the number one supporters throughout the whole study process, thank you so much for always trusting me all the time. It is because all of their supports, I can stand here as the way I am.

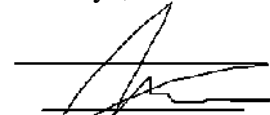

To all of my dearest friends in university, this thesis is for you. EDSA, Laqnad, Keluarga Cemara, Corona-Distancing Group, English Department students batch 2016, and many other friends, thank you for all the supports and experiences that you give me throughout college years. Thank you for always being there for me and giving me many suggestions whenever I have a problem inside and outside academic problems. To mbak Zifa, mbak Maitsa, mbak Menuk and the other seniors, thank you for all of your supports and suggestions in academics problems and in doing my thesis.

I would also like to give my gratitude to PAKARSAJEN, thank you for all of your supports to me. My college years would not be so awesome because of you guys.

Last but not least, to the one who never stops believing in me and supporting me. To Aisyah Amalia Ramadanti, this is for you, thank you for everything.
