Dear Dr. Wicaksana:

It is a pleasure to accept your revised manuscript entitled "The Consequence of Ethical Criticism of Intelligence on Countering Terrorism in Indonesia" (APP-06-2017-0054-OA.R2) for publication in Asian Politics & Policy.

We draw your attention to the attached "Note to Authors" which contains a final checklist of requirements for your submission prior to our copy edit.

As a standard procedure, the APP editing team will be suggesting some revisions (usually in order to improve readability and/or organization) and seek clarification on certain texts in the article itself. We will soon send you a copyedited version. If you will have questions or comments about the suggested revisions in the content of your manuscript, please let us know as soon as possible.

You may then be contacted by a copy editor of the publisher (who is not a part of the APP editing team), who may ask you questions intended to further clarify, or resolve queries in formatting which may exist either in the article itself or in the references.

Following this stage, your article will be typeset, and you will receive electronic proofs (e-Proofs) which are also dispatched to the authors, editors and proofreader. With the typeset proofs, you may receive a QUERY FORM meant to address any queries which were unresolved at copy editing. Please follow the instructions and respond to the proofreader in a timely manner.

Your article cannot be published until the publisher has received the appropriate signed license agreement. The corresponding author will receive an email from Wiley's Author Services system which will ask them to log in and will present them with the appropriate license for completion.

Thank you for your fine contribution. On behalf of the Editors of Asian Politics & Policy, we look forward to your continued contributions to the Journal.

Sincerely,
Dr. AILEEN BAVIERA
