Comments to author

Reviewer 2: This is a good paper. However, why can't you consider the use of Generalised least square for your robustness check because of the large samples involved? GLS controls for heteroskedasticity and probably autocorrelation.

You need to give your paper to an English expert to ensure that it is free of grammatical errors. In addition, reference list needs revision including inside text citation. Please, get APA 6th edition manual and confirm the use of "&" , "
