ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Praise for Allah SWT for his blessing and the prophet Muhammad SAW as my adoration that finally this thesis could be finished. Many obstacles I faced during working on this thesis especially for the time, energy, and attention that I could maximally produce. It would not have been possible to write this undergraduate thesis without the help and support of the kind people around me, to only some whom it is possible to give particular mention here.

Above all, this thesis would not have been possible without the help and support from Dra. Anna Dewanti, Dipl. Tesl, M.Pd, as my thesis adviser.

I would also like to gratitude to the Head of English Department, Dra. Lilla Musyahda, M.Pd., and all lecturers and staff of Faculty of Humanities Airlangga University who share much knowledge during my study time at the faculty.

Next, I owe a very important debt to Prof. Dr. Imam Mustofa, drh, M.Kes, as one of my inspiring people. It was particularly kind of him for encouraging me to continue study for Sarjana Degree in Airlangga University.

Then, I owe my deepest gratitude to my beloved 'Mami' and 'Papi' and the whole members of 'Sampurna family (Kak Nora, Kak Mahar, Gogo, Febri, Wira, and Zulfa) for giving me unequivocal support throughout, as always, for which my mere expression of thanks likewise does not suffice. I also give special thanks to 'KB' members as my second family for their kindness, friendship, support, and love since the first time we met.

Last, but by no means least, I thank my fellow undergraduate students at the English Department, especially Mita, who have given me generous support. I would also like to thank my colleagues at 88 English Surabaya who have been greatly tolerant and supportive in assisting me to accomplish my thesis.

For any errors or inadequacies that may remain in this work, of course, the responsibility is entirely my own.
