I dedicate this to my beloved mother,
father, brother, and my sisters.

ACKNOWLEDMENT

I always say to my friends that 'where there's a will, there's a way, and where's there's a will, there's a capability.' So, this thesis is a proof of the strong willingness; the strength that overcome the obstacles. However, it won't be realized if God doesn't help me through some people who help me in their own ways.

I will always be grateful to my thesis advisor, Mr. Rahman for his time and guidance in finishing this thesis. I am also indebted to all of the lectures of the English Department, Airlangga University who give me encouragement throughout my study.

I wish to thank to my beloved mother and little sister for their pray and support when I am in difficult time. I also thank to my father, brother, sisters and my aunt mbak Tien 'Kalibokor', for their support during my study.

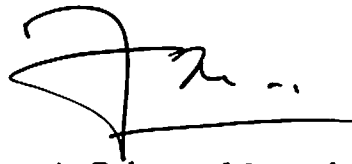

A lot of thanks I wish to say to 91's students. Those who have shared the nice moments together. It's all about my gratification of knowing friends such: Erna 'Bantat', Hening 'Itreng', Upik 'The most sensible of all', Hendro 'The turned-on man', Sa 'Hurry' an, Madah 'always a teaser', Bambang 'The eater', Yugo, Joko, Witono. Special thanx to Robby 'The writhing soul' for his 'short computer course' and also for the discussion about the 'Evil Nature in Human Being.' And to Robby's Mam, I wish to thank for those 'nice cookies' I've eaten a lot.

Finally for the readers of this thesis; I realize that this thesis is not a perfect one. Yet, at least I want to remind you of never blaming the civilization as a source of human destruction, because civilization, far from being a corrupting influence, is the only thing that can restrain the evil nature of human being.
