Research especially in medical field must be link with the clinical practice. The benefit of this study is not mention (et al) in this abstract. Actually, higher interdialytic weight gain (IDWG) is strongly associated with mortality and increase blood pressure among hemodialytic patient. The common cause of IDWG is salt intake and age, beside fluid intake and thirst. Do those factor explore?

>  Recommendation: Your overall rating. Weak/Accept (4)

>  Scope: Is this paper topic within the scope of the conference? out of scope (0)
