Dear Dr. Mahardian Rahmadi,

Thank you very much for your submission to the Pharmacy Practice Journal. We have received your article entitled "Prevalence and factors associated with potentially inappropriate medication and medication complexity for older adults in the emergency department of a secondary teaching hospital in Indonesia". The article is now under our PRELIMINARY EVALUATION and we will keep you updated on the article status accordingly.

As we are an open-access non-profit organization, we require publication charges to recover our editorial and production expenses. They cover the range of publishing services we provide which includes the provision of online tools for editors and authors, article production and hosting, liaison with abstracting and indexing services, and customer services. The publication charges are 1250 GBP for the accepted article. You are required to process publication charges upon acceptance of your article (after peer-review). Kindly confirm your response to proceed with the review process.

We thank you for submitting your valuable work to the Pharmacy Practice Journal.

Kindly get back to us for further queries.

Have a great day!

Regards,
Katie Flora

Subject: Manuscript Received and Peer-Review Acceptance - PP-22-2735

Dear Dr. Mahardian Rahmadi,

Thank you very much for your submission to the Pharmacy Practice Journal. We have received your article entitled "Prevalence and factors associated with potentially inappropriate medication and medication complexity for older adults in the emergency department of a secondary teaching hospital in Indonesia". The article is now under our PRELIMINARY EVALUATION and we will keep you updated on the article status accordingly.

As we are an open-access non-profit organization, we require publication charges to recover our editorial and production expenses. They cover the range of publishing services we provide which includes the provision of online tools for editors and authors, article production and hosting, liaison with abstracting and indexing services, and customer services. The publication charges are 1250 GBP for the accepted article. You are required to process publication charges upon acceptance of your article (after peer-review). Kindly confirm your response to proceed with the review process.

We thank you for submitting your valuable work to the Pharmacy Practice Journal.

Kindly get back to us for further queries.

Have a great day.!

Regards,
Katie Flora

Dear Editor,

Based on the recommendation from our institution after we had consulted, we request that we hereby propose to retract our manuscript entitled "The Prevalence and factors associated with potentially inappropriate medication and medication complexity for older adults in the emergency department of a secondary teaching hospital in Indonesia: Prevalence and factors associated with potentially inappropriate medication and medication complexity for older adults".

The decision is based on the results of a review that tends to be non-substantive and the Open Journal System (Publisher) (<http://ojs3modern10.openjournalsystems.com/>) which is the Publisher of the Pharmacy Practice journal indicated Predatory according to Beall's List (<https://beallslit.net/>). The impact of these two things resulted in us not being able to get a payment claim to our institution for the payment of an article processing charge (APC) worth GBP 1,250.

We thank you for your cooperation. Hopefully we can submit articles on another occasion.

Sincerely,
Mahardian Rahmadi

Dear Dr. Mahardian,

It's really unfortunate to see such a message from an academician like you or from the university, who could have done a little more research before sending an degrading email that we believe is seriously undermining our reputation and integrity. Please take note that our publishing house name is not OPEN JOURNAL SYSTEM (someone who may be using this name OJS as a scam) and that their website only lists two journals. (<http://ambs-journal.co.uk/ojs-2.4.7-1/index.php/index>). In reality, the Open journal system is software developed by Public Knowledge Projects in Canada that is used by many publishers around the world, including us (check here <https://pkp.sfu.ca/ojs/>).

For our journal, we use the Open Journals System (<https://openjournalsystems.com/>) software, and the link you shared is a theme that we use and your shared link shows our theme on the same website openjournalsystems.com. For more information about the journal and publishers and software we use, check our website <https://www.pharmacypractice.org/>. If you need help, you can speak with a senior professional in your university to learn more about the OJS submission system and predatory journals before passing judgment on a publisher.

Again, we are not predatory publishers, we are not on any list and have never been labeled as such by anyone other than your institution without any proper check.

Regards,
Katie Flora

Dear Editor,
We're sorry for the late reply.

About the payment, we already proposed to upgrade the limit of the credit card to the bank.
We will send you information if that process is done.

Thanks for your understanding

Dear Editors,

Thank you for your cooperation.

We have received notifications regarding payments, but we are still having problems with the payment limit using credit card. This resulted in us being unable to make payments today (21 September 2022).

We hereby propose to postpone the payment deadline until the problem is resolved.
We are very grateful for your consideration.

Dear Dr. Mahardian,

It's really unfortunate to see such a message from an academician like you or from the university, who could have done a little more research before sending an degrading email that we believe is seriously undermining our reputation and integrity. Please take note that our publishing house name is not OPEN JOURNAL SYSTEM (someone who may be using this name OJS as a scam) and that their website only lists two journals. (<http://ambsjournal.co.uk/ojs-2.4.7-1/index.php/index>). In reality, the Open journal system is software developed by Public Knowledge Projects in Canada that is used by many publishers around the world, including us (check here <https://pkp.sfu.ca/ojs/>).

For our journal, we use the Open Journals System (<https://openjournalssystem.com/>) software, and the link you shared is a theme that we use and your shared link shows our theme on the same website openjournalssystem.com. For more information about the journal and publishers and software we use, check our website <https://www>.

pharmacypractice.org/. If you need help, you can speak with a senior professional in your university to learn more about the OJS submission system and predatory journals before passing judgment on a publisher.

Again, we are not predatory publishers, we are not on any list and have never been labeled as such by anyone other than your institution without any proper check.

Dear Editor,

Based on the recommendation from our institution after we had consulted, we request that we hereby propose to retract our manuscript entitled "The Prevalence and factors associated with potentially inappropriate medication and medication complexity for older adults in the emergency department of a secondary teaching hospital in Indonesia: Prevalence and factors associated with potentially inappropriate medication and medication complexity for older adults".

The decision is based on the results of a review that tends to be non-substantive and the Open Journal System (Publisher) (<http://ojs3modern10.openjournalsystems.com/>) which is the Publisher of the Pharmacy Practice journal indicated Predatory according to Beall's List (<https://beallslist.net/>). The impact of these two things resulted in us not being able to get a payment claim to our institution for the payment of an article processing charge (APC) worth GBP 1,250.

We thank you for your cooperation. Hopefully we can submit articles on another occasion.

We have reached a decision regarding your submission to Pharmacy Practice, "The Prevalence and factors associated with potentially inappropriate medication and medication complexity for older adults in the emergency department of a secondary teaching hospital in Indonesia: Prevalence and factors associated with potentially inappropriate medication and medication complexity for older adults".

Our decision is to: ACCEPT THE MANUSCRIPT WITH MINOR REVISION

Kindly follow as per the suggestions in the attached file and send us the revised file at the earliest.

Meanwhile, Publication Charges - GBP 1250 We request you to confirm your mode of payment 1) Credit Card or 2) Bank Transfer. An invoice can be raised accordingly.

Thanks for considering Pharmacy Practice for your publications.

Dear Dr. Mahardian Rahmadi,

Thank you very much for your submission to the Pharmacy Practice Journal. We have received your article entitled "Prevalence and factors associated with potentially inappropriate medication and medication complexity for older adults in the emergency department of a secondary teaching hospital in Indonesia". The article is now under our PRELIMINARY EVALUATION and we will keep you updated on the article status accordingly.

As we are an open-access non-profit organization, we require publication charges to recover our editorial and production expenses. They cover the range of publishing services we provide which includes the provision of online tools for editors and authors, article production and hosting, liaison with abstracting and indexing services, and customer services. The publication charges are 1250 GBP for the accepted article. You are required to process publication charges upon acceptance of your article (after peer-review). Kindly confirm your response to proceed with the review process.

We thank you for submitting your valuable work to the Pharmacy Practice Journal.

Kindly get back to us for further queries.

Have a great day!

Regards,
Katie Flora

Dear Dr. Mahardian,

It's really unfortunate to see such a message from an academician like you or from the university, who could have done a little more research before sending an degrading email that we believe is seriously undermining our reputation and integrity. Please take note that our publishing house name is not OPEN JOURNAL SYSTEM (someone who may be using this name OJS as a scam) and that their website only lists two journals. (<http://ambs-journal.co.uk/ojs-2.4.7-1/index.php/index>). In reality, the Open journal system is software developed by Public Knowledge Projects in Canada that is used by many publishers around the world, including us (check here <https://pkp.sfu.ca/ojs/>).

For our journal, we use the Open Journals System (<https://openjournalsystems.com/>) software, and the link you shared is a theme that we use and your shared link shows our theme on the same website openjournalsystems.com. For more information about the journal and publishers and software we use, check our website <https://www.pharmacypractice.org/>. If you need help, you can speak with a senior professional in your university to learn more about the OJS submission system and predatory journals before passing judgment on a publisher.

Again, we are not predatory publishers, we are not on any list and have never been labeled as such by anyone other than your institution without any proper check.

Dear Editor,

Based on the recommendation from our institution after we had consulted, we request that we hereby propose to retract our manuscript entitled "The Prevalence and factors associated with potentially inappropriate medication and medication complexity for older adults in the emergency department of a secondary teaching hospital in Indonesia: Prevalence and factors associated with potentially inappropriate medication and medication complexity for older adults".

The decision is based on the results of a review that tends to be non-substantive and the Open Journal System (Publisher) (<http://ojs3modern10.openjournalsystems.com/>) which is the Publisher of the Pharmacy Practice journal indicated Predatory according to Beall's List (<https://beallslist.net/>). The impact of these two things resulted in us not being able to get a payment claim to our institution for the payment of an article processing charge (APC) worth GBP 1,250.

We thank you for your cooperation. Hopefully we can submit articles on another occasion.

Dear Dr. Mahardian Rahmadi,

Thank you very much for your submission to the Pharmacy Practice Journal. We have received your article entitled "Prevalence and factors associated with potentially inappropriate medication and medication complexity for older adults in the emergency department of a secondary teaching hospital in Indonesia". The article is now under our PRELIMINARY EVALUATION and we will keep you updated on the article status accordingly.

As we are an open-access non-profit organization, we require publication charges to recover our editorial and production expenses. They cover the range of publishing services we provide which includes the provision of online tools for editors and authors, article production and hosting, liaison with abstracting and indexing services, and customer services. The publication charges are 1250 GBP for the accepted article. You are required to process publication charges upon acceptance of your article (after peer-review). Kindly confirm your response to proceed with the review process.

We thank you for submitting your valuable work to the Pharmacy Practice Journal.

Kindly get back to us for further queries.

Have a great day.!

Dear Editors,

Thank you for your cooperation.

We have received notifications regarding payments, but we are still having problems with the payment limit using credit card. This resulted in us being unable to make payments today (21 September 2022).

We hereby propose to postpone the payment deadline until the problem is resolved.
We are very grateful for your consideration.

Dear Dr. Mahardian,

It's really unfortunate to see such a message from an academician like you or from the university, who could have done a little more research before sending an degrading email that we believe is seriously undermining our reputation and integrity. Please take note that our publishing house name is not OPEN JOURNAL SYSTEM (someone who may be using this name OJS as a scam) and that their website only lists two journals. (<http://ambs-journal.co.uk/ojs-2.4.7-1/index.php/index>). In reality, the Open journal system is software developed by Public Knowledge Projects in Canada that is used by many publishers around the world, including us (check here <https://pkp.sfu.ca/ojs/>).

For our journal, we use the Open Journals System (<https://openjournalsystems.com/>) software, and the link you shared is a theme that we use and your shared link shows our theme on the same website openjournalsystems.com. For more information about the journal and publishers and software we use, check our website <https://www.pharmacypractice.org/>. If you need help, you can speak with a senior professional in your university to learn more about the OJS submission system and predatory journals before passing judgment on a publisher.

Again, we are not predatory publishers, we are not on any list and have never been labeled as such by anyone other than your institution without any proper check.

Dear Editor,

Based on the recommendation from our institution after we had consulted, we request that we hereby propose to retract our manuscript entitled "The Prevalence and factors associated with potentially inappropriate medication and medication complexity for older adults in the emergency department of a secondary teaching hospital in Indonesia: Prevalence and factors associated with potentially inappropriate medication and medication complexity for older adults".

The decision is based on the results of a review that tends to be non-substantive and the Open Journal System (Publisher) (<http://ojs3modern10.openjournalsystems.com/>) which is the Publisher of the Pharmacy Practice journal indicated Predatory according to Beall's List (<https://beallslist.net/>). The impact of these two things resulted in us not being able to get a payment claim to our institution for the payment of an article processing charge (APC) worth GBP 1,250.

We thank you for your cooperation. Hopefully we can submit articles on another occasion.

Sincerely,
Mahardian Rahmadi

We have reached a decision regarding your submission to Pharmacy Practice, "The Prevalence and factors associated with potentially inappropriate medication and medication complexity for older adults in the emergency department of a secondary teaching hospital in Indonesia: Prevalence and factors associated with potentially inappropriate medication and medication complexity for older adults".

Our decision is to: ACCEPT THE MANUSCRIPT WITH MINOR REVISION

Kindly follow as per the suggestions in the attached file and send us the revised file at the earliest.

Meanwhile, Publication Charges - GBP 1250 We request you to confirm your mode of payment 1) Credit Card or 2) Bank Transfer. An invoice can be raised accordingly.

Thanks for considering Pharmacy Practice for your publications.

Dear Dr. Mahardian Rahmadi,

Thank you very much for your submission to the Pharmacy Practice Journal. We have received your article entitled "Prevalence and factors associated with potentially inappropriate medication and medication complexity for older adults in the emergency department of a secondary teaching hospital in Indonesia". The article is now under our PRELIMINARY EVALUATION and we will keep you updated on the article status accordingly.

As we are an open-access non-profit organization, we require publication charges to recover our editorial and production expenses. They cover the range of publishing services we provide which includes the provision of online tools for editors and authors, article production and hosting, liaison with abstracting and indexing services, and customer services. The publication charges are 1250 GBP for the accepted article. You are required to process publication charges upon acceptance of your article (after peer-review). Kindly confirm your response to proceed with the review process.

We thank you for submitting your valuable work to the Pharmacy Practice Journal.

Kindly get back to us for further queries.

Have a great day!

Regards,
Katie Flora

Dear Dr. Mahardian,

It's really unfortunate to see such a message from an academician like you or from the university, who could have done a little more research before sending an degrading email that we believe is seriously undermining our reputation and integrity. Please take note that our publishing house name is not OPEN JOURNAL SYSTEM (someone who may be using this name OJS as a scam) and that their website only lists two journals. (<http://ambs-journal.co.uk/ojs-2.4.7-1/index.php/index>). In reality, the Open journal system is software developed by Public Knowledge Projects in Canada that is used by many publishers around the world, including us (check here <https://pkp.sfu.ca/ojs/>).

For our journal, we use the Open Journals System (<https://openjournalsystems.com/>) software, and the link you shared is a theme that we use and your shared link shows our theme on the same website openjournalsystems.com. For more information about the journal and publishers and software we use, check our website <https://www.pharmacypractice.org/>. If you need help, you can speak with a senior professional in your university to learn more about the OJS submission system and predatory journals before passing judgment on a publisher.

Again, we are not predatory publishers, we are not on any list and have never been labeled as such by anyone other than your institution without any proper check.

Dear Editor,

Based on the recommendation from our institution after we had consulted, we request that we hereby propose to retract our manuscript entitled "The Prevalence and factors associated with potentially inappropriate medication and medication complexity for older adults in the emergency department of a secondary teaching hospital in Indonesia: Prevalence and factors associated with potentially inappropriate medication and medication complexity for older adults".

The decision is based on the results of a review that tends to be non-substantive and the Open Journal System (Publisher) (<http://ojs3modern10.openjournalsystems.com/>) which is the Publisher of the Pharmacy Practice journal indicated Predatory according to Beall's List (<https://beallslist.net/>). The impact of these two things resulted in us not being able to get a payment claim to our institution for the payment of an article processing charge (APC) worth GBP 1,250.

We thank you for your cooperation. Hopefully we can submit articles on another occasion.

Dear Dr. Mahardian Rahmadi,

Thank you very much for your submission to the Pharmacy Practice Journal. We have received your article entitled "Prevalence and factors associated with potentially inappropriate medication and medication complexity for older adults in the emergency department of a secondary teaching hospital in Indonesia". The article is now under our PRELIMINARY EVALUATION and we will keep you updated on the article status accordingly.

As we are an open-access non-profit organization, we require publication charges to recover our editorial and production expenses. They cover the range of publishing services we provide which includes the provision of online tools for editors and authors, article production and hosting, liaison with abstracting and indexing services, and customer services. The publication charges are 1250 GBP for the accepted article. You are required to process publication charges upon acceptance of your article (after peer-review). Kindly confirm your response to proceed with the review process.

We thank you for submitting your valuable work to the Pharmacy Practice Journal.

Kindly get back to us for further queries.

Have a great day!

Dear Dr. Mahardian,

It's really unfortunate to see such a message from an academician like you or from the university, who could have done a little more research before sending an degrading email that we believe is seriously undermining our reputation and integrity. Please take note that our publishing house name is not OPEN JOURNAL SYSTEM (someone who may be using this name OJS as a scam) and that their website only lists two journals. (<http://ambbs-journal.co.uk/ojs-2.4.7-1/index.php/index>). In reality, the Open journal system is software developed by Public Knowledge Projects in Canada that is used by many publishers around the world, including us (check here <https://pkp.sfu.ca/ojs/>).

For our journal, we use the Open Journals System (<https://openjournalssystems.com/>) software, and the link you shared is a theme that we use and your shared link shows our theme on the same website openjournalssystems.com. For more information about the journal and publishers and software we use, check our website <https://www.pharmacypractice.org/>. If you need help, you can speak with a senior professional in your university to learn more about the OJS submission system and predatory journals before passing judgment on a publisher.

Again, we are not predatory publishers, we are not on any list and have never been labeled as such by anyone other than your institution without any proper check.

Dear Editor,

Based on the recommendation from our institution after we had consulted, we request that we hereby propose to retract our manuscript entitled "The Prevalence and factors associated with potentially inappropriate medication and medication complexity for older adults in the emergency department of a secondary teaching hospital in Indonesia: Prevalence and factors associated with potentially inappropriate medication and medication complexity for older adults".

The decision is based on the results of a review that tends to be non-substantive and the Open Journal System (Publisher) (<http://ojs3modern10.openjournalsystems.com/>) which is the Publisher of the Pharmacy Practice journal indicated Predatory according to Beall's List (<https://beallist.net/>). The impact of these two things resulted in us not being able to get a payment claim to our institution for the payment of an article processing charge (APC) worth GBP 1,250.

We thank you for your cooperation. Hopefully we can submit articles on another occasion.

Dear Dr. Mahardian Rahmadi,

Thank you very much for your submission to the Pharmacy Practice Journal. We have received your article entitled "Prevalence and factors associated with potentially inappropriate medication and medication complexity for older adults in the emergency department of a secondary teaching hospital in Indonesia". The article is now under our PRELIMINARY EVALUATION and we will keep you updated on the article status accordingly.

As we are an open-access non-profit organization, we require publication charges to recover our editorial and production expenses. They cover the range of publishing services we provide which includes the provision of online tools for editors and authors, article production and hosting, liaison with abstracting and indexing services, and customer services. The publication charges are 1250 GBP for the accepted article. You are required to process publication charges upon acceptance of your article (after peer-review). Kindly confirm your response to proceed with the review process.

We thank you for submitting your valuable work to the Pharmacy Practice Journal.

Kindly get back to us for further queries.

Have a great day!

Thank you for your cooperation.

We have received notifications regarding payments, but we are still having problems with the payment limit using credit card. This resulted in us being unable to make payments today (21 September 2022).

We hereby propose to postpone the payment deadline until the problem is resolved.

Dear Dr. Mahardian,

It's really unfortunate to see such a message from an academician like you or from the university, who could have done a little more research before sending an degrading email that we believe is seriously undermining our reputation and integrity. Please take note that our publishing house name is not OPEN JOURNAL SYSTEM (someone who may be using this name OJS as a scam) and that their website only lists two journals. (<http://ambs-journal.co.uk/ojs-2.4.7-1/index.php/index>). In reality, the Open journal system is software developed by Public Knowledge Projects in Canada that is used by many publishers around the world, including us (check here <https://pkp.sfu.ca/ojs/>).

For our journal, we use the Open Journals System (<https://openjournalsystems.com/>) software, and the link you shared is a theme that we use and your shared link shows our theme on the same website openjournalsystems.com. For more information about the journal and publishers and software we use, check our website <https://www.pharmacypractice.org/>. If you need help, you can speak with a senior professional in your university to learn more about the OJS submission system and predatory journals before passing judgment on a publisher.

Again, we are not predatory publishers, we are not on any list and have never been labeled as such by anyone other than your institution without any proper check.

Dear Editor,

Based on the recommendation from our institution after we had consulted, we request that we hereby propose to retract our manuscript entitled "The Prevalence and factors associated with potentially inappropriate medication and medication complexity for older adults in the emergency department of a secondary teaching hospital in Indonesia: Prevalence and factors associated with potentially inappropriate medication and medication complexity for older adults".

The decision is based on the results of a review that tends to be non-substantive and the Open Journal System (Publisher) (<http://ojs3modern10.openjournalsystems.com/>) which is the Publisher of the Pharmacy Practice journal indicated Predatory according to Beall's List (<https://beallist.net/>). The impact of these two things resulted in us not being able to get a payment claim to our institution for the payment of an article processing charge (APC) worth GBP 1,250.

We thank you for your cooperation. Hopefully we can submit articles on another occasion.

Sincerely,

We have reached a decision regarding your submission to Pharmacy Practice, "The Prevalence and factors associated with potentially inappropriate medication and medication complexity for older adults in the emergency department of a secondary teaching hospital in Indonesia: Prevalence and factors associated with potentially inappropriate medication and medication complexity for older adults".

Our decision is to: ACCEPT THE MANUSCRIPT WITH MINOR REVISION

Kindly follow as per the suggestions in the attached file and send us the revised file at the earliest.

Meanwhile, Publication Charges - GBP 1250 We request you to confirm your mode of payment 1) Credit Card or 2) Bank Transfer. An invoice can be raised accordingly.

Thanks for considering Pharmacy Practice for your publications.

Subject: Manuscript Received and Peer-Review Acceptance - PP-22-2735

Dear Dr. Mahardian Rahmadi,

Thank you very much for your submission to the Pharmacy Practice Journal. We have received your article entitled "Prevalence and factors associated with potentially inappropriate medication and medication complexity for older adults in the emergency department of a secondary teaching hospital in Indonesia". The article is now under our PRELIMINARY EVALUATION and we will keep you updated on the article status accordingly.

As we are an open-access non-profit organization, we require publication charges to recover our editorial and production expenses. They cover the range of publishing services we provide which includes the provision of online tools for editors and authors, article production and hosting, liaison with abstracting and indexing services, and customer services. The publication charges are 1250 GBP for the accepted article. You are required to process publication charges upon acceptance of your article (after peer-review). Kindly confirm your response to proceed with the review process.

We thank you for submitting your valuable work to the Pharmacy Practice Journal.

Kindly get back to us for further queries.

Have a great day!

Regards,
Katie Flora
