Reviewer A:

This research raises an interesting topic, namely regarding a herbal medicine which is used as an alternative medicine. The writer wrote this manuscript very well. The study design appropriate to answer the aim of the research. Some points that need revision are:

- Please add specific statements for statistical analysis in abstract
- Please add more reference that supports the reason why the research performed in introduction
- Please complete the result of Kruskal-Wallis that the authors mentioned in Material and Methods section in Result section.
- Please do not repeat the statistical analysis results in the discussion section.
- Discussions can be added with other related recent references that support the research that the authors performed.
