Dear Authors,

Greetings

We hope you and your family stay healthy during the Pandemic.

We received comments from reviewers on book chapters of the book "Advanced Pharmaceutical and Herbal Nanoscience for Targeted Drug Delivery Systems". According to the comments of reviewers, the author should have their book chapter verified by a native English expert and attach a certificate of the same.

Listed below is the editor's message:

"Thanks for submitting the manuscript to "Advanced Pharmaceutical and Herbal Nanoscience for Targeted Drug Delivery Systems". Your book chapters has been reviewed by experts in the field, and it needs substantial revision (comments given below/ attached). You are encouraged to carefully revise the manuscript, highlighting the exact changes made.

Our publication policy requires the return of your revised manuscript latest within one weeks of the receipt of this message.

Reviewer Comments:

Comment No. 1:

The book is well written and it is very easy to read. I believe that it can attract the readers of nanoscience and nanotechnology, more especially those specializing in drug delivery. Nonetheless, before it could be considered for publication, a few points need to be addressed. • The quality of the images needs to be improved, otherwise the current images degrades the quality of the chapters. • Some of the used images were adopted from the journals or other internet search engines, I will strongly request that authors reference those journals or internet sides. Basically, most of the chapters in this book do contain images adopted from other sources. The grammar needs to be improved significantly, and recommended for the correction by a native English speaker. The certificate of native English expert must be attached.

Comment No. 2:

The reviewer recommends this book for publication.”

Expecting to get the revised book chapter before the deadline, and please contact me if you have any questions.

Regards,

Dear Authors

Greetings

We are pleased to inform you all that our book has been accepted and received a gallery proof from the publisher.

We have attached the gallery proof of the book for your information.

Please check your chapter for typesetting, editing, completeness, and correctness of text, tables, and figures. If your chapter needs to be corrected, please send us the list of corrections in the following format (doc. file) as an attachment to your e-mail by tomorrow.

Listed below is the editor's message:

The composed version of your manuscript is attached. I shall be grateful if you could kindly carefully check the composed version for any potential errors, missing lines/paragraphs and errors in figures/diagrams etc.

The uploaded proofs have been prepared directly from the final manuscript provided by you. However, in the transformation process, certain errors may have occurred due to a difference in the softwares used for which the Composing Department is not liable. The PDF version may distort your original figures. Therefore kindly check them carefully. All figures will be reproduced directly from your supplied soft copies. The resolution of the figures will be exactly the same as supplied to us with the original manuscript (except chemical structures). All references must be complete and accurate.

Moreover, as a part of the publication process, the manuscript has undergone copyediting for generally minor grammatical inconsistencies and specifically for some significant ambiguities (where necessary), to bring in clarity to the content. You are therefore requested to read the proofs thoroughly and send approval for all the corrections made in order to ensure that the original meaning of the content has not been altered in case of significant changes in the text.

Kindly return the corrected proofs of the manuscript within 24 hours. On receipt of your reply, the manuscript will be finalized for printing.

Dear Dr. Widyowati,

Thank you for your enquiry about the proofreading services provided by Colledge & Associates. I can confirm my availability to proofread your book chapter. Please find below the answers to your various questions in addition to information about the method of payment.

1. fee - £27 per 1,000 words. I round the length of the text up or down to the nearest 250 words for the purposes of calculating the fee.
2. duration of the proof-reading process - this depends on the number of words in the text and the complexity of the language used. Is there a specific deadline by which you have to submit the chapter to the editor of the book in which it will appear?
3. Colledge & Associates issues a certificate of proofreading to all clients free of charge on completion of proofreading.
4. payment method - Paypal represents the cheapest means of transferring fees from Indonesia to the UK. I issue an invoice to customers once the proof-read version of the chapter has been accepted. I ask that the current exchange rate and transfer fees are applied and paid in full so that the appropriate Sterling amount payable arrives in my account.

If you agree with the terms and conditions explained above, it would be extremely helpful if you could send me the chapter as soon as possible to enable to to begin work on it

I hope that the contents of this message meet with your approval. Nevertheless, if you have any further questions, please do not hesitate to contact me.

I look forward to hearing from you again.

Dear Dr. Widyowato,

Thank you for sending through your document for proofreading. According to my calculations, the length of the text excluding the references is 7,496 words. Therefore, the proofreading fee would be calculated as follows: £27 x 7.5 = £202.50.

As always, this figure includes all subsequent revisions of your text as well as the certificate of proofreading which you require. If this fee is acceptable to you, I would be grateful if could confirm this by return email and I will begin work on reviewing the contents of the text immediately.

I look forward to hearing from you.

In order for me to produce the certificate of proofreading, I would be grateful if you could confirm the name of the publisher as this information will need to be included in the certificate for it to be acceptable.

I have taken the liberty of writing to Dr Andang Miatmoko with a suggested course of action that would make transferring the proofreading fees more economic for you both. Might I suggest that you discuss this with him and get back to me with your response.

He plans to ask for your help to proofread other articles.

Can I pay this bill together with Mr. Andang? Because he conveyed that the shipping cost is expensive.

Then can I get the certificate first because the publisher is already waiting for it. The name of the publisher is Bentham Science Publishers.

Dear Dr. Widyowati,

Thank you for your message. Please find attached the Certificate of Proofreading relating to your article. I trust that its contents satisfy your requirements. Please do not hesitate to get back to me if you require any further support in this regard.

I also appreciate your confirming that Andang has transferred the fee relating to his most recent commission to our bank account. With regard to your request, I am willing to delay payment for the proofreading services provided to you to enable you to combine payment with the next one which Andang will make.

The only point I would make is that the current British tax year ends on March 31st. 2022 and I need to collect all proofreading fees by the end of February to enable my accountant to complete my tax return. I will send a separate email to Andang now explaining the situation.

In closing, I wish you success in having your article published by Bentham Science Publishers.
