Dear Dr. Putri:

It is a pleasure to accept your manuscript entitled "Negative Pressure Wound Therapy Versus Conventional Wound Care In Cancer Surgical Wounds: A Meta-analysis of Observational Studies and Randomized Controlled Trials" in its current form for publication in International Wound Journal. The comments of the reviewer(s) who reviewed your manuscript are included at the foot of this letter.

Please note although the manuscript is accepted the files will now be checked to ensure that everything is ready for publication, and you may be contacted if final versions of files for publication are required.

Your article cannot be published until the publisher has received the appropriate signed license agreement. Within the next few days the corresponding author will receive an email from Wiley's Author Services system which will ask them to log in and will present them with the appropriate license for completion.

Payment of your Open Access Article Publication Charge (APC):

All articles published in International Wound Journal are fully open access: immediately and freely available to read, download and share. International Wound Journal charges an article publication charge (APC).

Before we can publish your article, your payment must be completed. The corresponding author for this manuscript will have already received a quote email shortly after original submission with the estimated Article Publication Charge; please let us know if this has not been received. Once your accepted paper is in production, the corresponding author will receive an e-mail inviting them to register with or log in to Wiley Author Services (www.wileyauthors.com) where the publication fee can be paid by credit card, or an invoice or proforma can be requested. The option to pay via credit card and claim reimbursement from your institution may help to avoid delays with payment processing.

Thank you for your contribution. On behalf of the Editors of International Wound Journal, we look forward to your continued contributions to the Journal.

Sincerely,
Prof. Keith Harding
