Journal of Taibah University Medical Sciences

Reviewers comments:

Reviewer #1:

-The title should mention the study design to make it much clearer.

-Did authors used ARRIVE guidelines for reporting this study?

-The authors should add a paragraph in the introduction regarding the use of tissue conditioners with anti-fungals and may cite the following papers:

Shaikh, M.S., et al., 2021. Therapeutic role of nystatin added to tissue conditioners for treating denture-induced stomatitis: a systematic review. Prosthesis, 3(1), pp.61-74.

Iqbal, Z et al., 2016. Role of antifungal medicaments added to tissue conditioners: A systematic review. Journal of prosthodontic research, 60(4), pp.231-239.

-Please clarify, citrus limon essential oil can be effective against other species of candida?

-The authors should mention future research directions and limitations of this study at the end of discussion section.

Reviewer #2:

This manuscript provides in vivo data that supports previously published in vitro results which states that Citrus limon essential oil has an anti fungal activity against Candida albicans. The authors efforts are appreciated, however the manuscript is in need of English language revisions. The authors need to emphasize on the application of their results. Why was another control in which an antifungal agent such as nystatin was not included?

Reviewer #3:

Weaknesses: Grammatical mistakes

Reviewer #4:

The manuscript is not well presented with many editorial mistakes which makes it difficult to follow . Therefore, native English language editing is requested. The design of the study as well as the purpose is not clear and the authors pointed many times to a previous study from which the concentration was decided. Was it a pilot study before the main study or a previous publication.

The literature review is not sufficient especially regarding the effect of Citrus on Candida as important related studies were ignored.

No hypothesis was provided or the reason and importance of such work and what makes it different.

Methods were not validated or properly cited especially animal preparation, tissue preparation , Citrus gel type or brand, method of application, area of application

Results are presented in non organized manner and figures are sort of general without sufficient details to interpret.

Again, in the discussion, methods and results are repeated with redundancy.

Conclusions are repetitions of the results and not based on.

Clinical significance is not provided.

This work is not acceptable in its present format and I recommend rejection

Dear Editor,

Due to the submission of our manuscript that requires major revision and should be sent back on March 12, 2022, we intend to apply for an extension of the revision time. This is because major revisions to our manuscript have taken longer than we expected. Therefore, we hope that you can provide an extension of the resubmission of our revised manuscript.

Thank your for your consideration.

Dear Dr. Radithia,

I am pleased to tell you that your above paper has been accepted for publication in Journal of Taibah University Medical Sciences and will be published as soon as the editorial process allows.

The reviewers recommended that your paper was checked for English by a language editor, and so I arranged for your paper to undergo professional language editing during which a number of linguistic and grammatical changes have been made. The edited manuscript detailing the changes made is available in the editorial system by clicking on the "view submission" link after you have logged in and the edited version will be used to create the typeset proof of your paper.

The typeset proof of your paper will be sent to you in the near future by the Elsevier production team and at this point you will have a chance to make any final minor corrections before your paper is published.

Yours sincerely,

Dr. Muhammad Sohail Zafar, PhD (UK); MSc (UK); FHEA; MFDS RCPS (Glasg); BDS
