Dear
Editor-in-Chief
Critical Care and Shock

March 15th, 2022

I am pleased to submit an original research article entitled “Serum Albumin Levels as a marker for Multi-Organ Dysfunction Syndrome in Coronavirus disease 2019 patients: a prospective observational study” to be considered for publication as a research article in the Critical Care and Shock.

In this manuscript, we showed that serum albumin level is an excellent marker for predicting the development of MODS in COVID-19 patients. It is recommended that serum albumin levels should be considered in the initial screening so that the physician can select the appropriate treatment for COVID-19 patients.

We believe that our manuscript is appropriate for publication by Critical Care and Shock because it contains new data on the clinical characteristics of COVID-19 patients in our unit.

This manuscript has not been published and is not under consideration for publication elsewhere. We have no conflicts of interest to disclose.

Thank you for your kind attention and consideration.

Looking forward to hearing from you soon.

Sincerely,

Arie Utariani, MD
