ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Sociolinguistics, as the term itself suggests, is a discipline that is capable of combining linguistic and societal concerns in varying degrees.

This thesis is about sociolinguistics. In this thesis, I try to describe and analyze language choice among the Javanese people who live in block W Margahayu Raya Bandung.

Many people have given me useful comments on earlier drafts of this thesis. In particular, I would like to thank Drs. Husein Shahab and Dra. Ny. Sudijah S, MA.

I am very grateful to DR. Subandi for providing information and sharing their ideas. I would also like to thank my respondents, especially Bapak dan Ibu RW 21 Margahayu Raya Bandung for providing information and data.

Finally, I must thank my beloved family, my boy friend, and my best friend for their love and support, and also everyone who help me in writing this thesis.

I hope this thesis will be useful for everyone who read it to get a clearer understanding about the relationship between language and society.
