Alhamdulillah Robbil Alamin. First, all praises to Allah SWT, the Almighty God. Without His blessing the writer wouldn't have finished this thesis. The writer always believes that He always gives him the best things; then, now and forever. Somehow He shows the writer what is good, and what is not; when is good, and when is not; how is good, and how is not. Allahu Akbar.

The writer is greatly indebted to Mrs. Anna Dewanti, Dipl.Tesl. for her sincere assistance in accomplishing his thesis. His deep appreciation would be for her patience in giving him the advice and support. The writer is grateful not only for her reviewing and correcting his thesis, but also for giving him suggestion, advice, and support about what to do with his life and his future as well as how to deal with it. They mean a lot to him. Some things the writer would like to say, 'Thank you Mam. You really are a great teacher and a great mother as well.'

The writer dedicates his gratitude to the Board of Examiners and to all lecturers of the English Department, Faculty of Letters, Airlangga University for their guidance during the academic years. Thank you for the advice and lectures. They have shaped the way the writer is now.

The writer also wants to send his gratitude to Bp. Widodo, the owner of 'SCS English and Computer Course', who allowed him to make his research there. A sincere gratitude is also given to Bp. Winarto, the Branch Manager of 'SCS English and Computer Course'. Another person he'd like to thank is Mrs. Detty, the English teacher in SCS Course who helped him to manage the students.

Of course, he also thanks the students there who were his respondents for two months. They were sweet and smart students. Thank you.

His greatest gratitude would be to his beloved father and mother for their endless love. He really does appreciate their tremendous affection and care that make him the way he is now, strong enough, even when things seem worse to be faced. To thank them in words would never be enough. Words that the writer would like to say, 'Mom and Dad, at all times, in every possible way, I do love you. I'm so proud to be your son. You are the best father and mother.' The writer also thanks Dwi, his younger brother, for everything they've done together. To his grandparents, the writer gives a great gratitude for the endless support.

For the one the writer adores most, he'd like to say, 'Thank you for the care, attention, love, time, spirit, support, advice, prayer, and help you gave to me. My 'princess', Wita, you are the reason I live. You're everywhere I go, and you're all I know. You make this come true. I won't forget the time we met, the moments we shared, and the dreams we have. Hope that someday we'll have a bright future. If there were no words, no way to speak, I would still hear you. If there were no tears, no way to feel inside, I'd still feel for you.'

The writer has many friends, thank God. But he's really sorry that he can't mention all of their names here for his gratitude. All of them mean a lot to him. First, he'd like to thank Bp. Rusdi and Bp. Ivan who gave him a chance to develop his thoughts and his skills through a great job. He is also so grateful to Bp. Zein, the Principal of VIP, for his advice and suggestion. He's been like a father to him. For all his colleagues; Novy, Sany, Yoppie, Bp. Redes, Bp. Chaidir, mbak Lanny, mbak Yuli, Zula, mas Yuvit, Wahyu, Andre, and all of VIP and VES staffs; the writer would like to say, 'I thank you all.' To all his best friends; Dito, Aji, Rafi, Sani, Tinus; they have really given him a big help. To his other best friends from Unair; Widhie, Tata, Yunie, Astrid, Pras, Hasan, Dewi, Herman, Fatima, Yusi, Andri, Eggy, ... (sorry guys, I can't mention you all), he just wants to say, 'I thank you too. Thank you for being my friends'. The writer would also like to thank his Taiwanese friends, Mr. Wen, Mr. Lin, Ms. Fang, Ms. Kao, and Mr. Chow. The writer feels to be a lucky man to have a chance to meet them. He wants to say, 'Hope someday I can visit your country to spend some exciting days as you do here. Thank you for being my friends.'

This page will not be enough to list everyone who makes his life so precious and colourful. So he finally dedicates his great gratitude to all people who are not listed here, and those who have given enormous contribution to accomplish this thesis. Thank you.
