

CASTE AS A DOMINANT IDEOLOGY
IN INDIAN SOCIETY IN ARUNDHATI ROY'S
THE GOD OF SMALL THINGS

THESIS

By :

IRA KRISTANTI BUMBUNGAN

St. N.079815848

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT
FACULTY OF LETTERS
AIRLANGGA UNIVESITY
2004

CASTE AS A DOMINANT IDEOLOGY
IN INDIAN SOCIETY IN ARUNDHATI ROY'S
THE GOD OF SMALL THINGS

THESIS

Submitted as a Partial Fulfilment of the Requirements
Sarjana Degree of the English Departement Faculty of Letters
Airlangga University Surabaya

By :

IRA KRISTANTI BUMBUNGAN
St. N.079815848

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT
FACULTY OF LETTERS
AIRLANGGA UNIVESITY
2004

with Love

Dedicated to Mom and Dad

Approved to be examined
Surabaya, 15 January 2004

Thesis advisor

Edi Dwi Riyanto, S.S., M. Hum.

NIP : 132 255 153

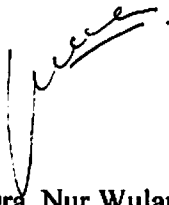

Accepted and approved by the Board of Examiners of the English Department,
Faculty of Letters, Airlangga University on 21st January 2004.

The examiners are :

Drs. Sumitro

NIP. 131 459 656

Dra. Nur Wulan

NIP. 132 062 312

Edi Dwi Riyanto, S.S., M.Hum.

NIP. 132 255 153

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This thesis will not be completed without the endless blessings of God. Therefore, I would like to give my first and greatest gratitude to Holy Father for all good and bad times I had during the process of writing this thesis. Thank you for giving me all the experiences and lessons I need to take to finally accomplish this thesis and the light that guides my path.

I would also like to express my deep gratitude to all lecturers of English Department of Airlangga University who have taught and guided me during the study. Especially for my thesis advisor, Edi Dwi Riyanto, S.S., M. Hum., thank you for the prudent guidance and the helpful references, and also Maimunah, S.S., thank you for sharing your extensive insight on this novel.

Million of thanks go to my Mom and Dad, who have given me so much love, time, energy, encouragement, and all the best things a person could ever have. I am very grateful to accept such enduring patience and support, and I know I could not have done it without you. To Mas Alex, Mbak Mega, and the little stars, Vara- Vira, thank you for the warmth and the spirit you bring to me and the family.

Also to my friends, especially Maya—for being my sister and companion, and Intan—for sharing many of her properties for the ‘road to success’, thank you! These warm thanks also go to Mas Mbilung and his Rama Bookshop, Mr. Nahrain, Jawaharlal Nehru Foundation, Bincil, Echo, who were there for me to start this thesis, and also Bude Tono and Mbak Lana for being such patient tour-guides. I would also like to thank CopyPaste community with whom I share the pleasure of writing, for giving me the chance to realize my true core. To TheMilo, thank you for coming here all the way from Bandung at the right time and place!

Finally, to all students of English Department's classes of '97, '98 and '99—especially EDSA X—thank you so much for the wonderful friendship, discussion, and day-to-day togetherness. You have made our moments full of laughter and joyfulness. May God bless you all in your present and future steps.

To seek joy in the saddest places. To pursue beauty to its lair. To respect strength, never power.
Above all, to watch. To try and understand.
And never, never, to forget.

~Arundhati Roy~