SYNOPSIS

This drama begins when Lady Windermere prepared her birthday party. Accidentally, Duchess of Berwick came and told about Lady's husband scandal. She didn't believe it but she then did it after she found her husband's bank book noted that he had sent some mone to Mrs. Erlyne. It made her angry, and the quarrel between her and her husband became worse after he asked her wife to invite Mrs. Erlyne in her party. She even threatened to strike Mrs. Erlyne across the face with the fan - her husband's present for her birthday. On the contrary, she could do nothing but looked faint when Mrs. erlyne really came. She even avoided her by going away with Lord Darlington to his house. This chance was used by Lord Darlington to reveal his love to Lady Windermere but she refused it. It made him broken heart.

Before going away, Lady Windermere wrote a letter to her husband that she would left him if he still had scandal. It was, then, found by Mrs. Erlyne, who was actually Lady Windermere's mother. Knowing her daughter's a marriage came to the ruin because of her coming, she wanted to save her daughter by keeping that letter and asked her daughter to go home. She made her daughter sure that her husband was guiltless. He only loved her.

Meanwhile, Lord darlington came house again with Lord Windermere and friends. Lord Windermere found his wife's fan there and it made him angry. He demanded Lord Darlington's explanation about that. Mrs.Erlyne came soon and tolds that she was the one who took that fan for her own. It made Lord Windermere thought that she was a wretched woman who had cheated him.

After Lady Windermere was at her home, she was worried whether her husband came back to her or not, but finally he came and apologized to her. They planned to go selby for fun. Then, Mrs.Erlyne came to meet Lady Windermere to say good bye since she would go abroad. Lord Windermere seemed didn't like her coming and asked his wife not to meet her but she disagreed with him. When she searched photograph asked by Mrs.Erlyne, lord Windermere used this time to forbid Mrs.Erlyne to meet his wife again. He hated her for she was thought as a wretched woman. Lady Windermere, then, entered and gave a photo of her with her child to Mrs.Erlyne.

When Mrs.Erlyne would go, Lord Augustus came and he helped her to carry the fan given by Lady Windermere.
