ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

This thesis writing is a final process of my bilingual proficiency research upon Sukamade's children which are likely to be students of SDN Sarongan IV, Pesanggaran, Banyuwangi. It is a great experience to have research over there because of the sociolinguistics phenomenon which is implied by Sukamade's children.

This thesis is submitted as partial fulfillment for sarjana degree of the English Department, Faculty of Social and Political sciences, Airlangga University. Because of this required condition I have to empower myself to finish this thesis writing until the end eventhough, I believe my thesis still implies many weaknesses and handicaps. But most of all, I have given all of my knowledge to attempt writing this thesis.

In finishing this thesis, I have accepted a great assistance of some of my colleagues who support me psychologically and share their ideas with me and therefore those persons, Anang , Arif, and Arfan, deserve to have my respectful thanks.

I also would like to express my grateful feeling for the support which is given by my beloved family and fiance without whom I would never think that I can finish this hard work. In addition to those persons, It will be indescend if I ignore the great role of my thesis advisor, Mr. Harlem Napitupulu, who has voluntarily spent his worth time to guide and advise me into an appropriate direction of writing this thesis.

Once again, I believe that my thesis is far from perfect and therefore an appearace of comments, criticism , and constructive suggestions will be highly appreciated.
