ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

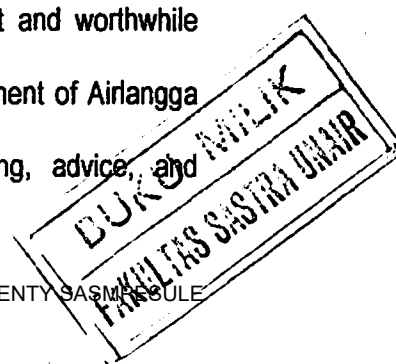

"Everything that happens in this world happens at the time God chooses. He has set the right time for everything." (Ecclesiastes 3:1. 11)

To the Lord Father in heaven be the glory for ever and ever! My utmost gratitude is dedicated to Him, the merciful Father, the God from whom all help comes, for His undying love which comforts me and for His wonderful blessings which give me strength, wisdom, and ability to bring this piece of work to completion.

Although the conclusions expressed here are my own, this thesis would not have been possible without the assistance of others. I received much stimulation from the number of persons to whom I am indebted for valuable information is too large to permit individual acknowledgement. I hope they will find here an expression of my deepest appreciation.

Firstly, I owe a special thank you to all those who allowed their conversations to be recorded and used in this project, and also to those who allowed me to interview them about their feelings and experiences about anger.

I personally would like to address my highest appreciation and respect to my advisor, Drs. Jurianto, for his valuable ideas, assistance, excellent corrective suggestions, and understanding beyond all doubt are great contributions for my thesis, just from the start until the completion of it. I would also like to acknowledge the support and worthwhile knowledge that I have received from the lecturers at the English Department of Airlangga University who have been tremendous helpers through their teaching, advice, and encouragement during my academic years. I shall remember my lecturers, friends, and precious time of study at the English Department with pleasure.

I am particularly grateful to Mbak Donna for her book which has been a great inspiration for this work and for everything that she has given to me. It is a wonderful blessing to have you as a sister in faith. I would also like to express my gratitude for the library staff of Petra Christian University who always favoured me with some books I needed during this project.

On a more personal note, my heartfelt thanks to my affectionate Papa, Mama, Senly, Ays, and Ainy for their abundant love, prayers, and support from time after time in my life. I could not have made this academic task without it. Loving thanks belong to my beloved friends: Ade, Itok, and Syanne for their prayers, support, and lovely friendship over the five years. You girls are the best! I am grateful and appreciate our fruitful relationship more than I can express. God bless you all. And last but not least, special thanks to my one and only love, the light of my life, for all of his loving care, emotional support, and hanging in there for me. Words of thanks to him would be out of place. With all my heart I will always love you.
