Acknowledgements

It is not easy to end something which we have started; and that is what I feel when I finally finish my thesis. First of all, I would like to thank Jesus Christ for all the blessings He has given me during finishing this thesis, for keeping my spirit and strength through all days and night. I also thank my parents who have raised me until become like what I am right now.

My thank also goes to all my lecturers in the English Department whose knowledge and attention has been given to me as a student as well as an individual, especially to my academic advisor, Dra. Sumarto D., M.Ed. Most of all, to my thesis advisor, Dra. S. Itafarida, M.Hum., for all her patience and understanding so I can finish this thesis as I have planned since the beginning of this tenth semester.

Last but not least, I would not forget my friends, the students of '96 in English Department: Nopek, Vitria, Erta, Uni', Rizky W., Yeanne, Lisa, and others that I cannot mention one by one here. I also thank my work-colleagues in Salvatore Radio: Mbak Vero, Mas Adhe, Mas Don, Mas Thonny, Mbak Dessy, Velly, Rani, and others. Especially for Jojo, thank for your encouraging SMS when I am tired and typing my thesis at the computer rental.

I hope this thesis could be as useful as I hope when I composed it at the first time, and I would be glad to receive any critics from the readers for the increasement of this thesis' quality.
