ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Many people have helped me make this thesis possible. They have contributed suggestions, encouragement and patience during the process of writing. Much gratitude to Ibu Dra. S. P. Sumarto D., M.Ed., my thesis advisor who has been guiding me technically and mentally. Also to Ibu Dra. Anna Dewanti Dipl. Tesl. as my academic advisor, my thesis examiners, all lecturers and employees in the Faculty of Letters Airlangga University for their support.

I would also like to thank the class of 97 in the Faculty of Letters especially 'The Jruenx's Team' for their support and to Novie Putri in the Faculty of Psychology for sharing the books and knowledge with me. I am also grateful for the existence of supportive institutions such as British Council, UNITOMO library, UGM library, 'Rujukan Sastra' and 'Psikologi'.

Much love for my family especially my parents who will always be financially and emotionally supporting, my brothers and sister as well as cousins and nephews for sharing the good and bad times with me.

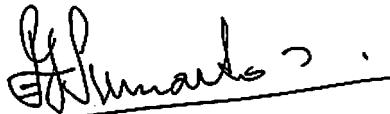

The last but certainly not the least, to the one that moves the universe, the beginning and the end, the be-all and end-all, The Almighty God. Without a magical help from Him, none of this will happen.
