

ABSTRACT

Japanese is one of language that have many kind of language variation. There are formal and informal language, man and woman's language, youth's language, and many more. There is one kind of language which have unique feature and widely used among Japanese youngster, which is called Gyarū Go (Gal's Language). Gyarū go is non standard language that made and used by gyarū. In Japanese society, gyarū is well known with their unique sense of fashion and ability to make a slang word. This thesis will examine the structure and meaning of gyarū go. To know about the structure of gyarū go, it will do by analyzing the forming process of word. And for examine the meaning, it will do by analyzing the change and connection between the meaning. This research use 'Shibuya Go Jiten '09-'10' as the data resources. There are 125 gyarū go in it. Those gyarū go is classiflicated in nine kind of forming process method and nine kind of change and connection of meaning. The result of analysis of the word structure show, that most of gyarū go in Shibuya Go Jiten '09-'10 are made by merging two word (konkō) and shorten the word (shōryaku). While, the result of analysis of the meaning show, that most of the meaning of gyarū gois made by connection between the word component that form the gyarū go.

Keyword : gyarū, variety of language, gyarū go, wakamono go