

CHAPTER IV

CONCLUSION

News now has been one of the most important things in the world. People need information, that is why some media companies exist to provide news and information they will need. One of the most popular medium to provide news is newspaper. Newspaper gives actual, informative, and up to date information. It also gives people a lot of information and knowledge. Besides the local news, newspaper also provides the foreign news.

One of the most successful media companies in Indonesia is Jawa Pos. It was established on 1949 by The Chung Shen. Now, Jawa Pos is the biggest media company in Indonesia. It has 15 branches which spread in East Java, Central Java – D.I Yogyakarta, and Bali. Jawa Pos Group consists of 169 regional newspapers with circulation over 400.000 copies daily and 22 local television networks which spread throughout Indonesia. Jawa Pos always tries to give its best service to public with its creativity. According to its slogan, “We Always Have Something New”, Jawa Pos is not afraid of reinventing some new things, such as: new section and new layout. Jawa Pos also believes in the power of youth people. It regularly refreshes its personnel, with most of the chief editors who are under 40 years old.

The writer gained a lot of knowledge during the internship which started from 15th January 2013 to 15th February 2013 as a journalist at the International Division. The writer could also apply her English skill, especially in translating English article into Indonesian and vice versa. she could also write articles with proper grammar. In this matter, she learned something new about doing journalistic work, searching news from the foreign news agency portal, combining information from different sources, translating an English article into Indonesian with some particular techniques, rewriting the article with good Indonesian Language grammar, and working with the journalistic ethic code. She also learned about how to adapt to the office situation which was totally different from the situation where she studied at school.

The writer was really proud and happy when doing her internship in Jawa Pos newspaper since it is the biggest media company in Indonesia. She realized that becoming a journalist is not easy. A journalist has to work hard under pressure to gather some information from many different sources to write article for the newspaper on the following day. However, she enjoyed all of the activities during the internship and she could do her best to do her work.

The writer suggests that Jawa Pos newspaper give some more opportunities to students who intend to do their internship, because in her opinion, it was really difficult to be accepted as an intern. Hence, the staff should not underestimate students who intend to do internship. Besides, Jawa pos needs to provide computer for students who do the internship, because it is very useful and not all of the students own portable computers. The writer eventually hopes that eventually hopes that the knowledge, information, and experiences she got during conducting the internship can be beneficial for her future.
