Reviewer 1:

It is a study of dental technicians' condition in Indonesia, which rarely exposed in the literature. Well structured writing, but some suggestions involved:

1. Add a statistical analysis of the personal occupational control
2. Discuss the limitation of the study and the future direction

Reviewer 2:

The topic was relevant for dentistry. It gave new knowledge about dental technicians in Indonesia which is a rare topic to be discussed in the field.

However, there are some suggestion to improve the research quality of the paper.

1. Please give more detailed introduction relating the impact of Ni, Cr, Co level increased to general health of the dental technicians.
2. Please add detailed information about the sampling frame
