Dear Editor,

We intend to publish an article entitled "Physical Properties of Bovine Serum Albumin Micropsheres using HPC-L and Hypromellose 606 Polymer" in International Journal of Pharma Research and Health Sciences as a Research Article. We confirm that this article is original, submitted solely to this journal, and not currently under consideration for publication and not published elsewhere. On behalf of all the contributors I will act and guarantor and will correspond with the journal from this point onward. We also report no conflicts of interest.

Thank you and looking forward to your positive response.
