

CHAPTER IV

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

4.1 Conclusion

From the discussion section, there are some lessons that can be concluded. Firstly, in teaching process, analyzing the techniques that will be used in teaching vocabulary is really important. By choosing the right technique for the student, it could make my teaching plan successful. Children are very interested in fun things like games and I have to create fun situations. Applying group quizzes technique was a great idea. Group quizzes could engage the students to the lesson and increase their social skills which improve their relationships with others in the class.

Secondly, I found the obstacle in using group quizzes. It is about how I control my class in applying group quizzes. Due to the unstable student's emotions, it makes them unwilling to be discipline during the lesson. In other words, the students need guidance in controlling their emotions and it was expected that they could follow the rules correctly to achieve a perfect lesson.

Thirdly, I got new experiences and techniques in facing young learner's characteristics and dealing with the classroom environment, especially in teaching vocabulary. As a teacher, I had to be kind, emphatic and had more patience to deal with them. Using group quizzes technique in the classroom was helpful to make the students more confident in accomplishing the task given in the class.
