

CHAPTER IV

CONCLUSION AND SUGESTION

4.1 Conclusion

There are several points can be concluded based on this final report and during internship program. The writer had valuable experience during the internship, the writer had learned about how English used when the Progress Advisor communicate with the student and what skills needed by Progress Advisor to communicate with the student.

From previous chapter, the writer conclude some points. The first point is about using English for communicate with the student. As a Progress Advisor, the writer need to talk with the student so that the writer knew about their English. Based on the observation, the writer found that the problem using English for the student that the student did not confident to talk with English so that the writer using actively participate in activity, express the thoughts and strategies so that the writer understand what the student want, and the last was introducing new skills and concepts for the student to be more confident when they talk.

The second point is about the skills needed as a Progress Advisor in English First Sidoarjo. During the internship, the writer had skills to be able communicate with young children. The writer used ability to understand what the student did because they certainly did not know about what the writer ask. The writer used native language so that the student understand about the writer question. Then the writer using positive motivation to make the student more confident to talk. Last
